

Sensa Risk Intelligence

AI-native FinCrime platform

Challenge

The cost of compliance is growing. Legacy tech stacks force operating models to rely on highly manual processes that struggle to keep pace with regulatory change and growing alert volumes. Compliance operations must evolve to support business growth that isn't constrained by outdated systems and inefficient ways of working.

Solution

Sensa Risk Intelligence (SRI) is a cloud-native FinCrime platform designed to reduce the total cost of compliance by embedding predictive, generative, and agentic AI into financial crime workflows. By intelligently automating and optimizing end-to-end processes, SRI empowers institutions to manage financial crime risk more efficiently and effectively.

50% of your workforce ~~could~~ should be AI

Reinvent your compliance operating model
